

Just a Note:

I hope and pray that each of you are well and able to stay safe.

Since March, we have been living in extraordinary times. So much time has passed and the days seem to run together. For many of us, we frequently check our calendar just to see what day it is.

We are all feeling a sense of loss amid the staggering infection numbers, uncertain economy, dreary weather, and continued quarantine.

As there is no clear timelines for the virus, our township meetings are conducted via Zoom. I speak for the township board when I say that we sincerely hope to be able to conduct regular meetings soon.

Until then, life will find a way. I would like to offer a special thank you to the staff and volunteers at our Township Food Pantry. Thank you to the Frankfort Township community and all the organizations who have so generously contributed to the people of our township that are in need.

Thank you to all of the essential workers health care professionals, grocery clerks, bus drivers, mail carriers, police officers, firefighters, delivery drivers, bank cashiers, farmers, sanitation workers, and others who put their lives on the line for us each day.

Let us all please keep washing our hands, practicing social distancing, and doing what we can for others.

Until we meet again, may God hold you and yours in the palm of his hand.
